

You can be part of the Family Law Procedural Text Study!

Orange County Superior Court, in collaboration with Stanford University, is running a study to find out if procedural text messages can help people going through Divorce without a lawyer.

Who can register

Self-Represented Litigants who have filed a divorce petition or responded to one in the past 200 days in Orange County.

How to Apply

Just text the word TEXTME to (657) 236-3038.

Make sure you have your case number available, because we will be sending you sign-up information by reply text.

Things You Should Know About This Study

There is no cost to sign up. The Text Message program is free of charge to sign up. Depending upon your phone plan, you could be charged by your carrier for receiving and sending messages.

Not everyone who signs up will get messages. For the study, some of those who sign up will be selected to get texts and others will be notified that they will not receive them. Those not selected will still get case notices by mail if their case is not proceeding.

We will not sell your data. When you sign up, we will ask you for some personal information to be able to send you updates. We will not sell your information and will use reasonable measures to keep it secure and private.

You can text back STOP anytime to end. You can leave the program at any time by texting back STOP, and we will not send you any further messages.

Questions? Write to fltext@occourts.org