H. Court Policy on Employment of Relatives

1. Purpose:

To provide guidelines for employment of close relatives as situations involving relatives working in the same Court may result in morale problems, inappropriate supervision, conflict of interest or public criticism. The intent of this policy is to avoid the opportunity for an officer or employee of the Court to use personal influence to aid or hinder another in the employment setting or situation because of a personal relationship.

2. Policy:

- a. General: No person may be appointed, promoted, reduced, transferred or reassigned to a position in which that person is in the direct line of supervision of a close relative; nor shall close relatives have the same immediate supervisor or manager. "Supervision" includes the assignment of work, evaluation of performance and setting or influencing the pay or granting of benefits to the other.
- b. Judicial Officers/Executive Management: A close relative of a judicial officer or upper management employee should not be assigned to a position in the same department/division/courtroom as said judicial officer or management employee.

Definition: A close relative shall be defined as an individual related by blood, adoption, marriage or domestic partnership, e.g. , spouse, domestic partner, parent, child, sibling, grandparent, grandchild, uncle, aunt, first cousin, nephew, niece, mother/father in-law, son/daughter in-law, sister/brother in-law, stepparent, stepchild, stepbrother/sister or half-brother/sister.

Disclosure: All applicants for employment, promotion, reduction, transfer or reassignment to a position in a Court shall be required to disclose the name(s) and position title(s) of any close relative currently employed in that Court prior to appointment, promotion, reduction, transfer or reassignment. An employee who becomes a "close relative" by marriage or domestic partnership subsequent to appointment shall disclose the new relationship(s) to his/her supervisor.

Exemptions: The Chief Executive Officer may grant exemptions required for the effective and efficient operation of the Court. The Chief Executive Officer shall develop appropriate procedures to ensure the objective review of requests for exemption.

3. Procedure for Exemption From Policy:

- a. The hiring supervisor shall request authority for an exemption from the Chief Executive Officer prior to appointing, promoting, reducing, transferring or reassigning a close relative of an employee if such action will result in a violation of policy above.
- b. The Chief Executive Officer will approve or disapprove supervisor's recommendation.
- c. If an exemption is granted for a close relative of the Chief Executive Officer, the Presiding Judge shall be promptly notified.

I. Personal Court Case Disclosure

1. Purpose:

A conflict of interest arises when an employee's personal or financial interest conflicts or appears to conflict with his/her official responsibility. A high standard of conduct, judgment and ethics is required of all employees of the Superior Court of Orange County

2. Policy:

In accordance with the Court Employee Code of Ethics, court employees must avoid all impropriety and appearance of impropriety. Accordingly, employees of the Superior Court of Orange County shall not process, handle, or in any manner be involved with any case or process of any nature within the jurisdiction of this court in which the employee, or the employee's relative or friend, is a party, witness, or alleged victim. For purposes of this section the term "relative" includes any close familial relationship including, but not limited to: the employee's spouse or domestic partner, former spouse or domestic partner, children, stepchildren, parents, siblings, grandparents, grandchildren, first cousins, father-in-law, mother-in-law, brother-in-law, sister-in-law, son-in-law, and daughter-in-law.

If an employee, or the employee's friend or relative is a party, witness or alleged victim to a case or proceeding filed in the court, the employee shall not use his or her work time to address any matter relating to that case or proceeding. If time off is needed to attend to the employee's case or proceeding, e.g. to make an appearance or pay a fine, the employee must use the court's usual time-off procedures.

If an employee is a party, witness, or alleged victim in a case or proceeding filed in the court or has knowledge of a relative or friend who is a party, witness or alleged victim in a case or proceeding filed in the court, the employee must report this to his or her supervisor so that a determination can be made whether a conflict of interest or the appearance of impropriety may exist. When deemed necessary, the court will determine what, if any, special handling of the court case may be appropriate to avoid a conflict of interest or appearance of impropriety.

3. Procedure:

When a case or proceeding is filed involving a court employee, a relative of the employee, or friend of the employee as a party, alleged victim, or witness, the employee must promptly notify his or her supervisor or manager and provide a completed copy of the Personal Case Disclosure form. The supervisor or manager receiving the disclosure will promptly provide the form to the Supervising Judge of the Justice Center where the case or proceeding is filed or is pending.

The Supervising Judge will determine the appropriate action, if any, to be taken to avoid the conflict of interest or appearance of impropriety, including but not limited to: assigning the matter to a different panel, Justice Center, or judicial officer, and/or whether the matter should be referred to the Presiding Judge for assignment and transfer to another county.

An employee is not permitted to file or process documents or electronic records in his or her own file, or that of a relative or friend, or in any other case that may create an appearance of impropriety and may view the file only under one of the following circumstances:

- In the same manner and location as a member of the public views the record;
- While in the presence of a supervisor or manager.
- Not during his or her work time.

J. Drug and Alcohol Policy

1. Purpose:

It is the purpose of this policy to set forth the position of the Superior Court with respect to the use of drugs or alcohol by Court employees while on Court time, in Court vehicles, on Court property or in Court facilities.

2. Policy:

In recognition of the duties entrusted to the employees of the Court and with knowledge that drugs and alcohol do hinder a person's ability to perform duties safely and effectively, the Superior Court adopts the following policy:

It is the policy of the Orange County Superior Court to maintain a safe, healthful, lawful and productive work place. The Chief Executive Officer and the Presiding Judge are committed to discouraging alcohol and drug abuse and to achieving a work force free from the influence of drugs and alcohol.

It is the intent of this policy to deter the misuse or abuse of legal or illegal substances which create a threat to the safety and health of any Court employee or member of the public. The Court is concerned with those situations where the use of alcohol and drugs interferes with any employee's safety and job performance, adversely affects the job performance or safety of other employees, affects the safety of the public or the public's trust.

The Court participates in the County's voluntary Employee Assistance Program (EAP) to assist all Court employees who wish to seek help for alcohol and drug problems. The Court also makes available a variety of insurance coverages which provide treatment for drug and alcohol abuse. Employees may contact their supervisors, insurance provider, or the EAP for additional information.

The use, possession, or sale of illegal drugs is unlawful, dangerous and prohibited. The use of alcohol in the workplace, or prior to coming to the workplace, so that the employee's performance is impaired, is dangerous to the employee, to other employees and the general public and is prohibited. The abuse of all drugs, including alcohol, by employees is unacceptable since it can adversely affect health and safety, security, and productivity as well as public confidence and trust.

Violation of this policy may be grounds for disciplinary action up to and including discharge from Court service.

Employees who experience drug or alcohol problems are encouraged to seek referral for rehabilitation through the EAP or their insurance provider. It is the responsibility of each employee to seek assistance before alcohol or drug problems lead to performance problems. Once a violation of this policy occurs, subsequent use of the EAP or other programs, on a voluntary basis, will not necessarily lessen disciplinary action.

K. Nondiscrimination

The provisions of these Policies and Regulations shall be applied to employees without discrimination by reasons of marital status, race, religion, disability, sexual orientation, color, gender, gender identity, gender expression,, age, national origin, ancestry, medical condition (cancer related or genetic characteristics), pregnancy, citizenship, service in the uniformed services, genetic information or any other reason prohibited by law (hereinafter is referred to as "Protected Characteristics".)

L. Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO)

In accordance with state and federal requirements, Orange County Superior Court supports a policy of non-discrimination and equal employment opportunity (EEO). Superior Court will not discriminate in any policy, practice, procedure or decision on the basis of any Protected Characteristic. Each employee of this organization is charged with the responsibility of complying with the Code of Ethics for Court Employees and demonstrating a good faith effort in implementing the organization's commitment to Equal Employment Opportunity. Employees who believe they have experienced any form of discrimination or harassment are encouraged to report this immediately to the Chief Human Resources Officer.

M. Harassment, Discrimination & Retaliation Prohibited

The Orange County Superior Court is committed to preserving a workplace free of harassment, discrimination, and retaliation in compliance with state and federal requirements including Title VII of the 1964 Civil Rights Act, the California Fair Employment and Housing Act, and sound management principles. The court strictly prohibits illegal discrimination and harassment of employees, applicants, unpaid interns, volunteers and contractors. All Superior Court employees, including volunteers and interns, are expected to conduct themselves in a professional and courteous manner at all times in compliance with applicable law and the Code of Ethics for Court employees.

It is the policy of Orange County Superior Court to prohibit discrimination and harassment based on an individual's race, color, religion, sex, gender, gender identity, gender expression, national origin, ancestry, age, marital status, physical disability, mental disability, medical condition (cancer-related or genetic characteristics), sexual orientation, pregnancy, genetic information (including family medical history), citizenship, service in the uniformed services, or any basis prohibited by law (hereinafter referred to as "Protected Characteristics").

Discrimination includes any selection or employment related policy, practice, procedure or decision involving an applicant, employee, apprentice, unpaid intern or volunteer based upon a Protected Characteristic.

It is the policy of Orange County Superior Court to prohibit harassment in any form, including verbal, physical, or visual harassment. Harassment includes communications made by means of an electronic act, such as a text message, e-mail, or social media post (refer also to the Orange County Superior Court's Social Media Policy and Guidelines). Such harassment may include, but is not limited to, slurs; epithets; derogatory jokes; degrading comments; gestures or physical conduct; stalking, or threats that an employee's job, advancement, compensation, assignment, or other benefit is dependent on toleration of harassment.

Impermissible conduct also includes, but is not limited to, making unwelcome sexual advances and requests for sexual favors where (1) submission to such conduct is made an explicit or implicit term or condition of employment; (2) submission to or rejection of such conduct by an individual is used as the basis for employment decisions affecting such individual; or (3) such conduct has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an employee's work performance or creating an intimidating, hostile, or offensive work environment. A violation of the court's harassment policy also results when widespread sexual favoritism by a court employee in a position of authority substantially alters a third party's working conditions and results in a hostile work environment.

Impermissible conduct by court employees or persons with whom the court contracts to do business, such as independent contractors, will not be tolerated when the conduct is directed at or involves an applicant for court employment, a court employee, or a contractor.

Consistent with State and federal laws, Orange County Superior Court provides reasonable accommodations for employees on the basis of physical or mental disability, pregnancy, breastfeeding, and religion.

Retaliation Prohibited

This policy prohibits retaliation against an employee who in good faith reports, opposes, or participates in any manner in an investigation of an alleged violations of this policy. Retaliation includes threats, intimidation, reprisals, and/or adverse actions related to employment.

Any substantiated behavior that is found to be retaliation under this policy will be considered a violation of this policy and will result in serious corrective action up to and including possible termination of employment.

Conflicts of Interest Caused by Consensual Relationships:

A consensual relationship, for purposes of this policy, is defined as one in which two individuals are involved or have been involved, by mutual consent, in a dating, romantic, physically intimate and/or sexual relationship. These relationships pose a potential conflict of interest in the employment context when one individual has responsibility for supervising, directing, overseeing, evaluating, or influencing the employment status of the other. A consensual relationship may lead to an abuse of power, coercion, exploitation, favoritism, or unfair treatment of others.

Because of the potential for a conflict of interest, an employee with supervisory responsibilities who is in or enters into a consensual relationship with someone over whom he or she has supervisory, oversight, or evaluative responsibilities shall notify his/her supervisor or manager as soon as possible so that effective steps can be taken to eliminate any conflict of interest. The subordinate employee may disclose the relationship to the supervisor's supervisor or manager or Human Resources. Means to eliminate conflicts of interest may include, but are not limited to: transfer of either individual to another position; transfer of supervisory oversight or evaluative responsibilities to another supervisor or manager; or providing an additional layer of oversight to the supervisory role.

Procedures for Consensual Relationship Disclosures:

When a manager or supervisor receives information regarding a consensual relationship in the workplace, involving an employee with supervisory, oversight or evaluative responsibilities over the other involved employee, the manager or supervisor shall immediately report the information to the Chief of Human Resources or Human Resources' Employee Relations Unit and provide copies of any written documentation. The Chief of Human Resources or designee shall consult with appropriate Court managers to identify an effective method for eliminating the actual or potential conflict of interest. This determination will be communicated to both parties involved in the consensual relationship and to supervisors and managers with a need to know.

Harassment/Discrimination/Retaliation Complaint Process:

Anyone who believes he or she has been discriminated against or harassed due to a Protected Characteristic in connection with his or her employment with Orange County Superior Court, or has been retaliated against in violation of this policy, or is aware of such discrimination, harassment, or retaliation should immediately report the incident using the Court's Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO) Complaint form. Submit the completed form to Superior Court Human Resources attn: Chief of Human Resources or Employee Relations Unit, Central Justice Center.
