Where do I Electronically File?

Efiling, or electronic filing, uses a provider that interfaces with the court. The court provider is Odyssey eFileCA.

You can eFile 24 hours a day, seven days a week, 365 days a year. The deadline for filing a domestic violence ex parte or responding to a domestic violence ex parte is 3:00 PM the same day.

If you have not eFiled before, you will need to create an account.

Odyssey File & Serve:

Available at <https://california.tylerhost.net/>. You may choose to use eFileCA or an EFSP provider. Be sure to use a waiver account to submit your DV filings to avoid a service fee. Click on Register Now. There is no registration fee. Check 'An Independent User' if you do not have an attorney assisting you. Follow the prompts.

There are no court fees for domestic violence filings.

Required Forms for Response to Domestic Violence Electronic Processing:

Form Number	Form Title
DV-120	Response to Request for Domestic Violence Restraining Order

Instructions to Submit and Electronically File

- Enter as a New Case or enter the existing case number and select Orange Domestic Violence.
- In the Filing Description type EX PARTE.
- Submit your documents as a single PDF with the DV120 as the first page.
- The Filing Code will be DV Answer – Temporary Restraining Order. DO NOT use a different Filing Code as this will cause the forms to go into the incorrect queue.
- Your document(s) will indicate “Rejected” with a comment that they were manually processed (printed and routed to the appropriate courtroom) for judicial review.
 - A valid email address must be included on your documents so the court can let you know the results of the ex parte and send you images of your filed documents.
 - This notification usually takes place before 5:15 PM the same day.
 - Be sure the email address you are using is assessible to multiple members of your office/firm.
